244-00323 The largest framed Model 76™ rifle, the stock is designed to reduce perceived recoil and muzzle climb when shooting big bore calibers, yet still holding four .416 Rigby cartridges in the magazine. Features controlled round feeding and positive extraction; the extractor, underneath the locking lug and positioned at the end of the bolt, opens fully to insure that the next round feeds smoothly. The three-position safety allows the bolt to be operated with the safety on. The one-piece trigger guard and hinged floorplate are machined from solid bar stock.
